This Excel document represents a current listing of my record collection for sale as of the date above. Please check with my web site at d-jam.com to make sure this is the more up to date list.

How to purchase:

- 1. Look through the pages at what might interest you.
- 2. Compile a list of what you might be interested in.
- 3. Email me at info@d-jam.com
- 4. We will meet up in person to make the exchange. I accept payment in cash or Zelle.

Prices are listed in the yellow columns, and all the Discogs IDs hyperlink to the listings on Discogs if you wish for more information on the specific release.

Everything in this document is organized by general genre in the tabs along the bottom:

- House: Any house music I have that didn't fall into the old school, deep, tech, or progressive buckets. More often big club anthems of house.
- 80s House: Old school house music from the mid-80s til 1991.
- 90s House: Generally all the house music I bought from roughly 1993 until 1999.
- Deep House: A lot of the soulful and funky house I was playing from 2000 on.
- Tech House: A handful of house records leaning heavily on the influences of techno music.
- Progressive: The more darker sounds of house from the 90s and 00s that didn't really play itself into any "deep" mode but more pure underground.
- Rave Techno: Techno and hardcore music from 1991-1993.
- Techno: Mostly harder techno I would play with trance music, and some bona-fide techno records that just had some great value. Any old Detroit Techno though I put in 80s house.
- Trance: Pretty self-explanatory. The high-energy big room sound of the late 90s and early 00s.
- New Wave/Synth-Pop: The classic synth sound of the 80s and 90s.
- Retro: This is a mixture of 80s pop and other club anthems not generally seen as house music.
- Disco: Pretty self-explanatory. Mainly dance music from the 70s.
- Industrial/EBM: Old Industrial and Electronic Body Music from the 80s and 90s.

- Eurodance: Any kinds of poppy Euro music from the 90s and into the 00s.
- Freestyle/Heartthrob: Again self-explanatory. Mainly that sound from the late 80s through the 90s.
- Breaks/Electro: This is mainly broken beats of different times. Electro-funk, old school breaks, and nu-school breaks.
- Hip-Hop/Rap/R&B: Anything I have in this. Old and more modern.
- DJ Tools: A handful of accapella records and some scratch sample records. I wasn't a scratcher so they're in great condition.
- Misc: Anything I have that wasn't really dance music. Some rock records.
